

CONSTRUCTION SEQUENCING

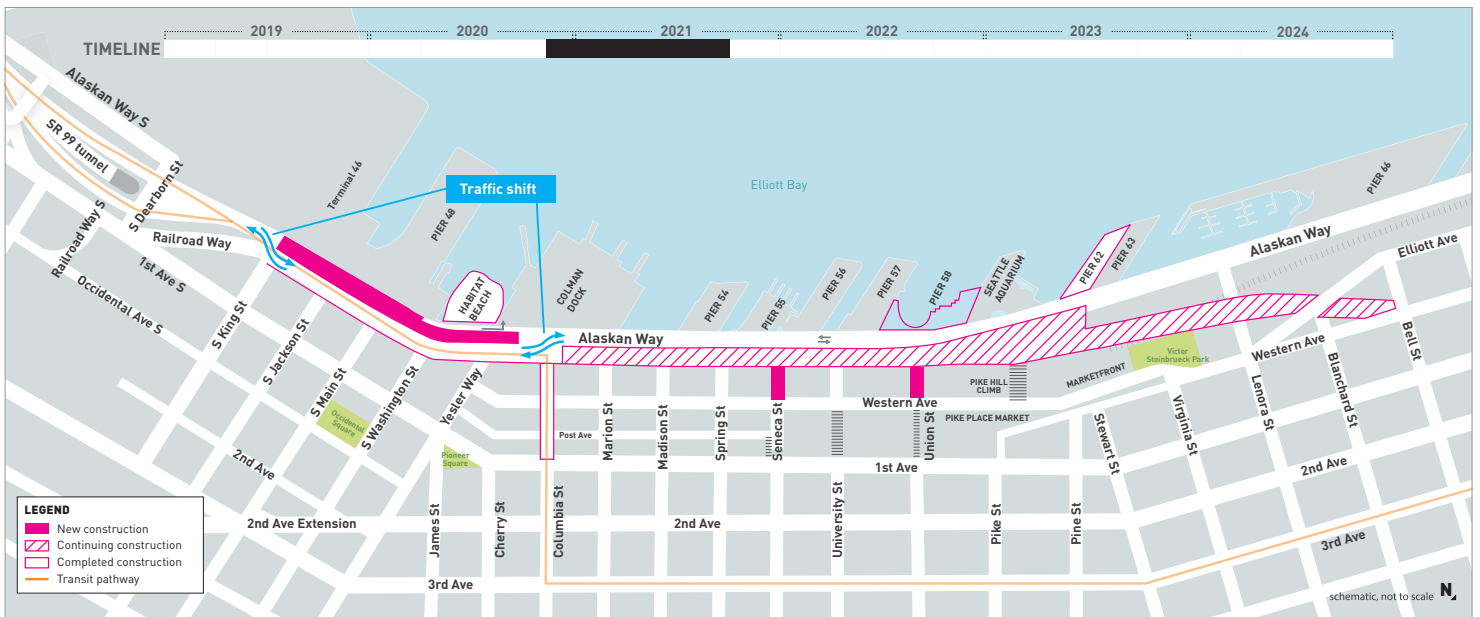

Waterfront Seattle construction is underway and we're making progress! Over the next several years we will continue to build different elements of the program, spanning from the stadiums to Belltown. Please note that there are other projects under construction in the area; the maps below only show Waterfront projects to make it clear when and where we will be working. Dates are subject to change.

A ALASKAN WAY ROADWAY CONSTRUCTION BEGINS; COLUMBIA AND PIER 62 COMPLETED

In fall 2019, we began building the new Alaskan Way in the footprint of the former viaduct. In 2020, we completed work on Pier 62 and Columbia Street, which provided a new transit pathway between downtown Seattle and southwest King County.

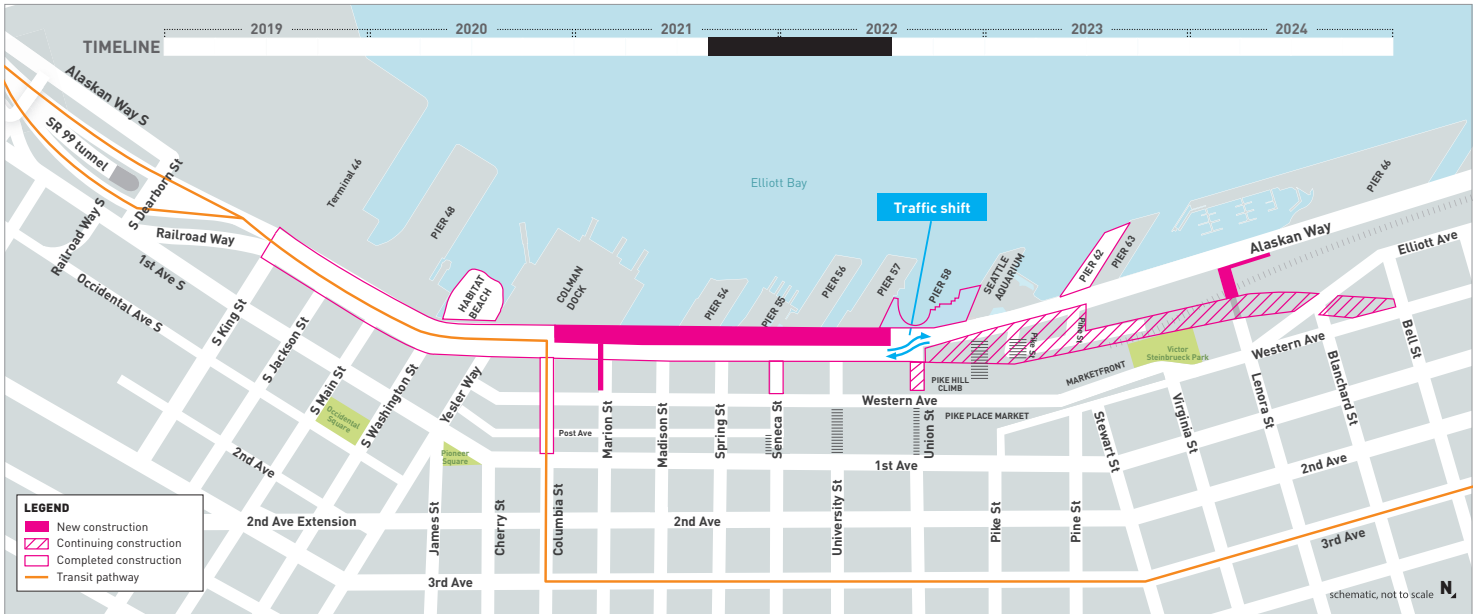

B TRAFFIC SHIFT SOUTH OF COLUMBIA, CONTINUE ALASKAN WAY

In fall 2020, traffic will shift to the new Alaskan Way, in the footprint of the former viaduct, from S King to Columbia streets. We will be continuing utility work on the new Alaskan Way north of Columbia. The removal of Pier 58 will be completed in early 2021.

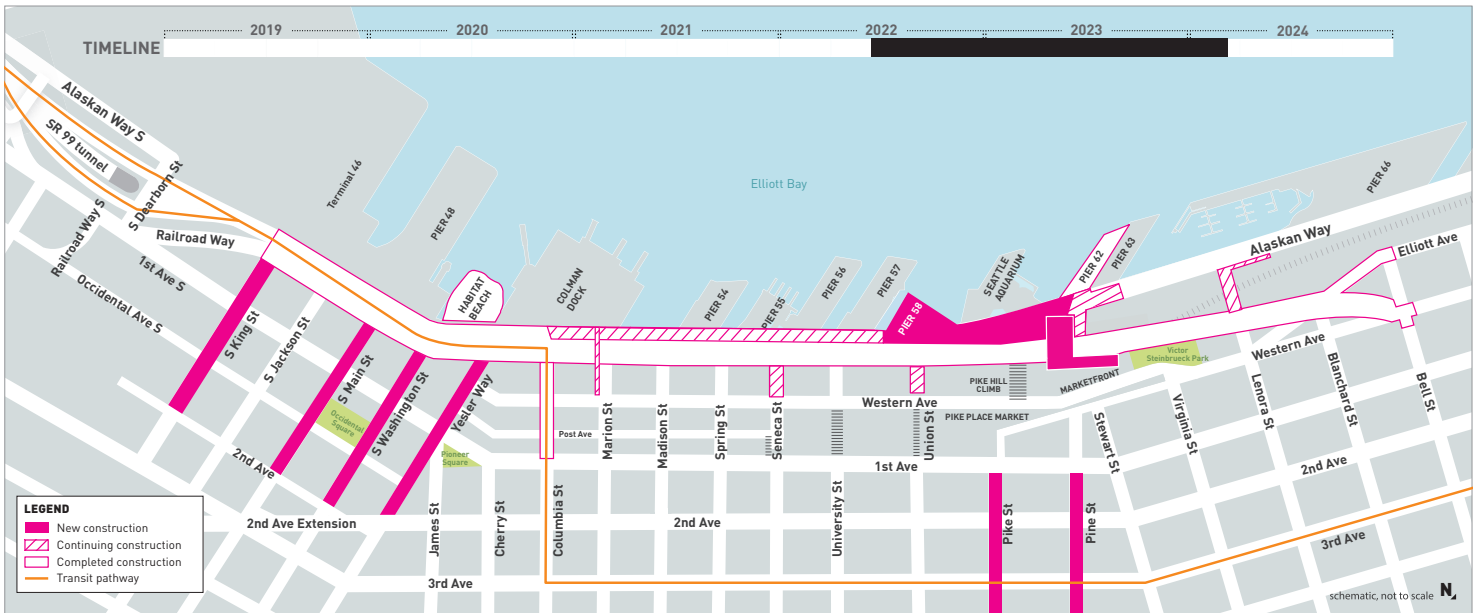

C TRAFFIC SHIFT SOUTH OF UNION; TRANSIT LANES ON ALASKAN WAY OPEN SOUTH OF COLUMBIA STREET, BEGIN PROMENADE

We will continue work on the elevated portion of Alaskan Way, which will become Elliott Way north of Pine Street. In fall 2021, traffic will shift to the new Alaskan Way, in the footprint of the former viaduct, from Columbia to Union streets. Construction of the Park Promenade between Columbia and Union streets will begin.

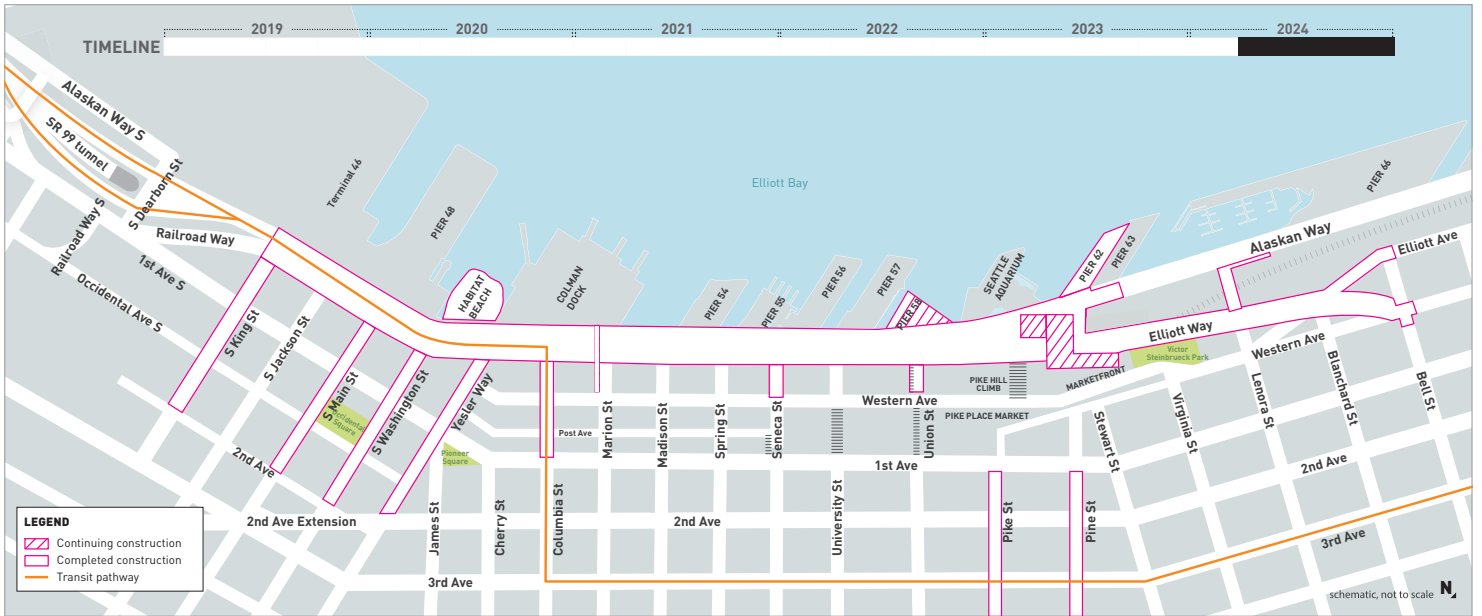

D NEW ALASKAN WAY OPEN TO TRAFFIC; BEGIN PIER 58, OVERLOOK WALK, EAST/WEST PEDESTRIAN IMPROVEMENTS

By mid 2023, we will complete Union Street. We will start work on the Overlook Walk, Pier 58, and improving Pioneer Square streets and Pike/Pine in late 2022. We will continue working on the promenade between Columbia and Union streets, and begin promenade work between Union and Pine streets.

COMPLETE OVERLOOK WALK AND PIER 58; PARK PROMENADE, PIONEER SQUARE AND PIKE/PINE COMPLETED

Park Promenade construction will be complete by early 2024. By the end of 2024, all Waterfront Seattle construction will be complete.
