

ALASKAN WAY TRAFFIC SHIFT COMING THIS DECEMBER

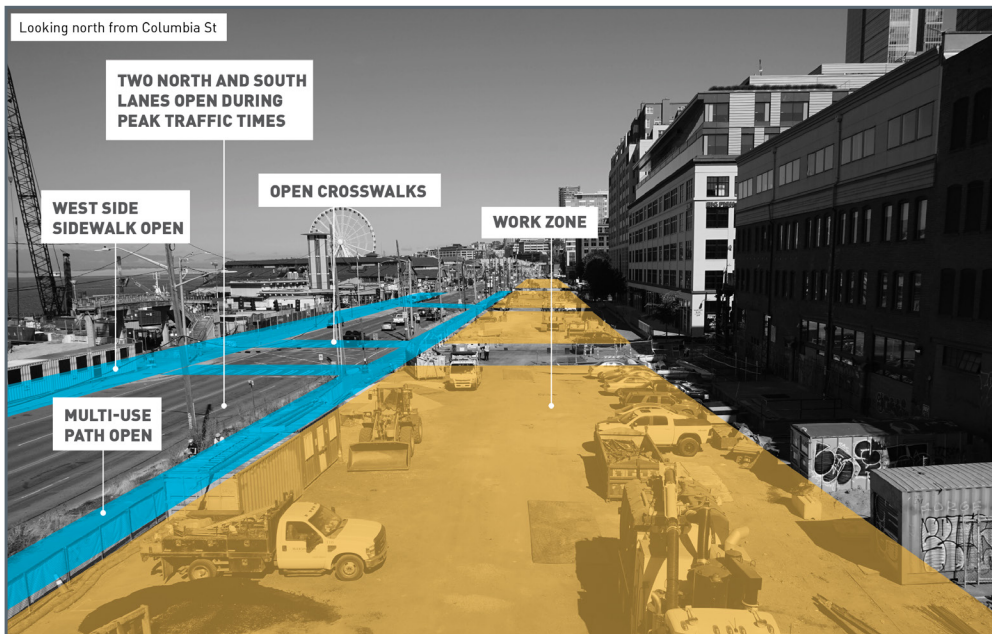

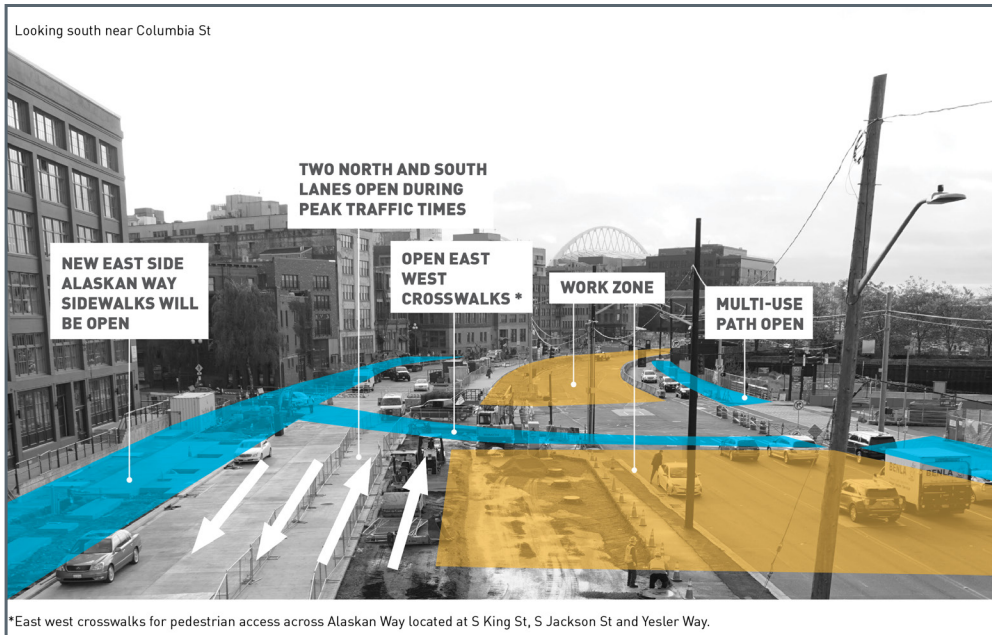

As early as December 11, Alaskan Way traffic will shift to the east, in the footprint of the former viaduct, onto the newly rebuilt roadway between S King and Columbia streets. The construction on Alaskan Way will shift to the west between S King and Columbia streets to continue building the new Alaskan Way. North of Columbia St, construction will remain in our current work area on the east side of Alaskan Way.

Map of work zones.

WHAT TO EXPECT ON ALASKAN WAY:

- Northbound and southbound lanes shift to the east from S King St to Columbia St
- Two-way traffic will be maintained with 2 lanes each direction during peak hours
- Construction will begin on the west side of the road from S King St to Columbia St
- Access to Colman Dock will be maintained
- North of Columbia St construction will remain as it currently is, on the east side of the road in the footprint of the former viaduct
- New sidewalk and curb ramps for improved pedestrian access on east side of Alaskan Way will open with traffic shift
